

The Disability Royal Commission is looking into something that may need to be fixed

It is looking into all types of violence, abuse, neglect and exploitation

It is looking at why people with disability are harmed

The Royal Commission wants to stop people with disability being harmed

It wants everyone to live and feel safe in their home, their work, their community, their education and within the service delivery they receive through supports

It is looking at ways of making our community better for people with disability

Have you experienced or seen violence, abuse, neglect or exploitation towards a person with disability?

Would you like to tell the Royal Commission about this?

Do you have an idea that could make our community better for people with disability?

You can tell the Royal Commission about what you experienced or saw

The Royal Commission wants to hear from you

Community Living Australia wants to hear from you to help make your voice heard

Community Living
Australia can support you to talk to the right people

Here are some of the ways we can help

Help arrange a meeting with the right people for you to talk to Attend a meeting with you if you want us to Find someone to help you share your experience or idea

Help explain information about the Royal Commission

Some people might be upset, embarrassed, angry or scared by some of their experiences

Community Living Australia is here to support you

If you have any questions or would like more information please call Community Living Australia
08 8536 5888

You can call the Royal Commission
1800 517 199

Or email the Royal Commission

DRcenquiries@royalcommission.gov.au

These can be found on the Disability Royal Commission website

www.disability.royalcommission.gov.au